No matter how intimate or extravagant, planning a wedding is always a huge undertaking, and deciding to get married abroad takes it one step further. Whether you're opting for a destination wedding to save a little money, to wed somewhere neutral or to just indulge in a foreign location, Latin America is loaded with prime spots for a romantic rendezvous. We've rounded up our favorite wedding spots—from beaches, to chapels, to Maya ruins—and helpful hints in hopes of making your planning a little easier.

HAMANASI ADVENTURE AND DIVE RESORT / BELIZE

Its sandy beaches and azure Caribbean horizon make Belize an ideal setting for an intimate destination wedding. The resort's wedding packages include everything you need for a memorable and romantic celebration—beautiful setting, champagne, flowers, cake—as well as all the less romantic legal requirements, such as witnesses (if you don't have your own attendants), fees and a marriage license. Be sure to check out Hamanasi's Mayan Wedding Package, where you can wed your sweetheart at an actual Maya ruin.
